CONTEST YOUNG HIT ROOMING.

Here are the prizes Paducah and McCracken county candidates in The Sun's Contest stand to win:

Three Grand Prizes, which go to the three candidates, respectively of district, who stand the highest at the close of the contest, August 31:

A fully equipped, latest pattern Ford automobile, with four-door seat, $1,000.
Second—$500 in cash.
Third—$250 in cash.

The McCracken county prizes are: A $100 Ward phone, sold by Hays and W. T. Miller & Son, which will go to the candidate standing highest in the county. Then the following prizes will be alternated between the successful candidates in the two districts, into which the county has been divided; a one-hundred and fifty dollar diamond, purchased from Joe Wolf; A hundred dollar buggy, purchased from Powell-Hogers; a seventy-five dollar range purchased from Geo. O. Hart & Sons; a seventy-five dollar scholarship in The Paducah Central Business College; two fifty dollar watches, and two twenty-five dollar prizes of furniture.

Everything is ready for an active start on the part of the many candidates who have signified their intention of entering the Great Contest which is now being conducted by The Sun and Associate Newspapers of West Kentucky. Receipt blank books have been printed by the hundred and are now being mailed to those whose nominations have been received.

These supplies cost nothing. This is no scheme for selling agents' outfits. The Sun and the co-operating newspapers are very glad to furnish everything necessary for conducting a winning campaign and to render all the assistance to individual candidates that can be given without showing partiality. The management of the contest has been so organized that a District Manager in each of the counties can be quickly reached by the candidates of that section and is at the service of all of them for the purpose of explaining the details of the contest and of assisting in the active work of lining up the candidates' friends in their behalf.

If your district manager has not called upon you write to The Contest Department of The Sun, or of any of the associated newspapers, and he will be asked to call upon you at once. You can't begin too soon. But it's very easy to delay until the others

Met His Admirer.
Love will find a way, and this proved true in the case of Tandy Reeves, colored. Heaven is true to the county jail and is serving a sentence for stealing a bottle of whiskey, but when Ella Williams, colored, arrived from Louisville Tandy's love was not cold. They were married despite the fact that Reeves has several more days before his honeymoon may begin.

FARMERS BUSY IN FIELDS AND BANK CLEARINGS SHOW

Makes Week Trifle Dull in Retail Trade But Today's Business Good.

Paducah Hosiery Mill Machine Makes a Hit.

LETTERS FROM PHILADELPHIA.

BANK CLEARINGS.
This week $617,975
Last week 600,156
Increase 17,819

To good weather may be attributed the slight decrease this week in the bank clearings. The weather is too busy to make purchases. The unveiling of the monument today brought large crowds into the city and the business was given an uplift by the presence of the crowd. Broadway was crowded all day.

All retail merchants report a steady trade, although the week has been a trifle quiet as compared with other weeks. The weather has been warm, and the merchants have sold straw hats and light clothing in large quantities. Even the laundryman is rejoicing, for summer is his season so far as business is concerned.

Everything about the city is looking up in business. No sports are expected, but business is expected to take a long steady, yet rapid, flight, as it is doing all over the country.

Textile Machine a Success.

Two telegrams and a letter have been received this week from R. H. Phillips and E. E. Lack, who are attending a big Textile Machine exposition at Philadelphia, stating that the two machines with the inventions of Mr. E. O. Davis on them are the main attractions at the exposition. Mr. Davis is kept busy every day from 7 o'clock in the morning to 7 o'clock at night, demonstrating the two machines. Every manufacturer who is visiting the exposition, is keenly interested in the machines. The newly patented textile machines are destined to the greatest success of textile machinery ever invented, to event the new tariff bill, now being discussed, is passed. It will protect the home textile industry and the output in five years will be doubled. There will be a demand for twice as many machines with the patent of Mr. Davis. This feature of the tariff bill is coming home to Paducah. The Wisdom Hosiery Mills will be as much interested as any mill in the country. If the new duties proposed are agreed upon, the local mill will double its force to meet the demand.

Mr. Phillips and Mr. Lack say that now the question is to get the machines out fast enough to fill the orders hooked at the convention. For the present contracts will be let to the east for the manufacture of the machines but plans are now on foot to put up a plant in this city for the manufacture of the machines of the Southern Textile Machine company. Messrs. Phillips and Lack will return next week.

Statue of Paducah's Brave Son is Unveiled Today.

STATUE OF GEN. LLOYD TILGHMAN.

Many Confederate Veterans in City to Do Honor to General Tilghman's Memory— The Ceremony.

Just after the statue of Gen. Lloyd Tilghman was unveiled in Corded-ate circle this afternoon, the rain interfered with the ceremony, the crowd adjourned to Fountain Avenue Methodist church, where the remainder of the ceremony is being carried out.

Threatening weather, which culminated in rain just as the parade got well under way this afternoon, did not prevent a magnificent turnout for the unveiling of the statue of General Lloyd Tilghman.

People took refuge in the houses on Fountain Avenue when they reached the place. The use of Fountain Avenue Methodist church was tendered in case of rain.

The handsome monument with fine statue of General Tilghman, for the first time was seen by the public when the covering was dropped. The day dawned clear although for short intervals the sun was hidden during the day. The wind blew constantly during the day, but the storm did not strike until after 2 o'clock.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the parade left Seventh and Jefferson streets and proceeded to Second street south on Broadway, and west on Broadway to Ninth street, north on Ninth street to Jefferson street, then west to Lang park. The parade was led by Chief Collins and the police, followed by "Lion's" band, Sons of Veterans on horseback, city officials in carriages, drum corps under leadership of Major Hagen, invited guests, speakers and Confederate veterans in automobiles. United Daughters of the Confederacy in carriages and citizens following.

The following was the program:

Musical.
Invocation—The Rev. J. R. Henry.
Musical.

Address of Welcome—Dr. D. G. Murrell, chairman of the Veterans' Monument committee.

Response—Captain W. J. Stone, of Kuttawa.

Musical during the unveiling, which will be done by Misses Rebecca Smith, Mary Terry Burnett, Mollie Gardner, Miriam Lewis, and presentation of laurel wreath by Miss Myra Gilbert.

Presentation of monument to the city—Captain Harrison Watts.

Acceptance of monument on behalf of the city—Mayor James I. Smith.

Musical.
Oration—Captain William T. Ellis of Owensboro.

The wreath used was furnished by chimaia Bros.

Honoring of Tilghman Men
So far as known there are only five living veterans who left Paducah with General Tilghman, and their meeting was a happy one. The five are: Col. Charles F. Jarrett, of Hopkinsville, W. A. Grief, Thomas Faindelroy, Joseph Ullman and Dr. J. G. Brooks, of Paducah. They left Paducah July 2, 1861, and went to Camp Boone, Tenn., where they organized as Kentucky's neutrality prevented the organization. They surrendered at Gainesville, Ala., May 6, 1865.

The market house was decorated with flags and the colors. Market situation.

Many old Confederates are employees of the Illinois Central railroad shops, and today they took a day of rest, to renew old acquaintances and attend the unveiling.

Prisoners of War Meet.

For the first time since they were prisoners of war, Oswald Tilghman, of Baltimore, and Captain David Phillips, of Nashville, met last night at the Palmer House. Although time had changed their appearances they recognized each other and their meeting was joyful. Both were in the Confederate army and were captured at Fort Hudson, on the Mississippi river. For 62 days their only rations consisted of mule meat and catfish they caught from the river, and this was eaten without salt or bread. With 5,000 other Confederates they were taken as prisoners to Johnson's Island, where they remained 18 months. Since then they had not met until the meeting last night, which was accidental. The two old soldiers have been constant companions since.

Reception Tonight.

The social feature of the unveiling exercises will be the reception tendered the veterans at the Palmer House tonight. The Daughters of the Confederacy will receive the veterans on the mezzanine floor, while refreshments will be served in the dining room. The parlors will be thrown open for the comfort of the veterans. The hotel will be decorated with the Confederate colors, and a pleasant evening is expected.

Many Visitors.

Many visitors arrived within Paducah gates to attend the unveiling exercises this afternoon. The stream of visitors began yesterday afternoon and has continued in a steady stream until this afternoon when the last Confederates marched in to pay respects to the unveiling of the monument. A special train from Paris, Tenn., arrived this morning over the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, while the regular trains of the Illinois Central.

School Book Change

Four changes have been made in the school book list for the county school book commission, which is composed of County Judge Lightfoot, County Attorney Allen Barkley and S. J. Hillman, county school superintendent. Harry's arithmetic is substituted for Ray's arithmetic, while Evans' United States history will be used instead of the Eclectic history. Practical Language Lessons will be used instead of the Long's copy book, which will be used instead of the copy books of the American Book company.

Pullman's Optimistic

Chicago, May 15.—The Pullman company is so sure a return of unprecedented prosperity is near it will make investments valued at $2,000,000 in its plant and increase its capacity to 50,000 cars annually, according to the announcement today by the company, that the contracts have been let. The directors decide on the improvement after a careful study of the financial and railroad situation.

Gen. Tilghman.

There comes with the dawning of this happy morning,
A feeling of reverence and love,
For the soldiers that rest in the great mother breast,
The great loving breast of the south-land.

'Twas at Vicksburg, O! horror, the loss and the sorrow
Of war, of pitiless war,
With never a doubt his fair life went out,
Tilghman, of Kentucky.

Paducah, fair city, nor sorrow, nor pity,
We leave you this bronze here today,
Nor light, no, nor rift in this precious gift
For Tilghman, of Kentucky.

For those who have thought, with all love have brought To the heart of your fair southern city,
Give me your love and your cure
For Tilghman, of Kentucky.

While lambs are bleating, in soft southern wailing
For the heroes at home and abroad,
I have brought this fair wreath from my own native heath
To Tilghman, of Kentucky.

With reverence I place it, with all love I caress it,
This blossom that heroes should wear,
Their memory with you be loyal, be true
To Tilghman, of Kentucky.

Let it lie at his feet, 'tis fitting, 'tis meet
This chaplet that heroes should wear,
'Tis faded, and free from Tennessee
For Tilghman, of Kentucky.

The above poem was written by Miss Bettie Garland, of Clarksville, Tenn., a magazine writer and poet of note, and was recited by Miss Leiby Johnson, of Clarksville, Tenn., at the presentation of the laurel wreath at the unveiling.

WEATHER.

Thunder showers this afternoon and tonight followed by showers and sleet Sunday. Highest temperature yesterday, 80; lowest today, 70.

BUNK GARDNER, OF MAYFIELD, CHOSEN DISTRICT DEPUTY

Knights of Pythias Hold Interesting Meeting in This City

Beautiful Floor Work and a Banquet.

STATE OFFICERS ATTENDED.

The district meeting of the Knights of Pythias held in Paducah Friday, was one of the most successful ever held in this section of the state. There was a splendid representation from lodges composing the district, Mayfield having the banner delegation.

The afternoon session was devoted to business pertaining to the order in this district. After statistical reports were read an eloquent address was made by Grand Chancellor Polard, of Jackson. An address by J. W. Carter, grand keeper of records and seal, of Lexington, followed.

Addresses upon various subjects of vital interest to the order were made by Veris Gregory and Judge Itank Gardner, of Mayfield, A. Y. Martin and A. E. Stein of Paducah. Discussions were indulged in under each topic.

In the election for district deputy the name of Judge Bunk Gardner, of Mayfield, was presented and his election was made unanimous. Judge Gardner is one of the best qualified men in the district for the office. He is a Pythian of unswerving fidelity, the presiding officer of his own lodge and is in position to serve a record-breaking term in the responsible office, which he will fill for the next year.

The grand lodge rank was conferred upon three past chancellors, after which adjournment was declared.

At 8 o'clock in the evening Chancellor Commander A. E. Stein, of the local lodge, called the meeting to order. The hall was well crowded with Knights. The grand lodge officers were introduced and made addresses. Lee Hanks, editor of the Kentucky Pythian, also made a good talk. The conference of the rank of page was then taken up. The work was put on by the Paducah team and was done in a faultless manner.

After the degree work the meeting was turned into a social session. Informal talks were made, jokes were indulged in and a good time in general was had by all those present. Refreshments were served after the conclusion of the social session and at midnight the meeting was over.

Pythianism in Paducah will be greatly benefited by the meeting held yesterday. The enthusiasm manifested was greater than the local members had anticipated, and will probably result in the institution of a second lodge in this city.

The visiting Pythians were shown every possible courtesy and were grateful in their appreciation of the manner in which Paducah exemplified southern hospitality.

In Admiralty.

A suit was filed against the steamer Charles Turner this morning in the United States court by the Fitzgerald-Litchford company, of Nashville, to recover $163.58. The Fitzgerald-Litchford company claim the sum due it is for supplies and stores purchased at Nashville by Paul Ryman, who was at that time master of the Charles Turner. The Charles Turner is owned by Capt. John Rollins, of this city.

BAPTIST MISSION REPORTS BACKED UP WITH NEEDFUL

Money Contributed Liberally
For Every Cause at Convention.

Women Re-Elected All Their Old Officers.

BALTIMORE MAY BE CHOSEN.

Louisville, May 15. (Special.)
—The chief feature of the Baptist convention today was the money contributed liberally for every cause at convention.
—To raise a $600,000 endowment. As soon as the contributions asked for by the convention the students announced a $10,000 contribution. Four members of the Norton family gave $5,000 each and four or five other contributions of $5,000 were made. The money came in rapidly. It is believed all need will be raised.
—Baltimore was named by the committee for the next meeting but the fight is on by several cities in the convention.

Louisville, May 15.—(Special.)
At a meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Baptist convention, Miss F. E. S. Heck, of North Carolina, president, and all old officers were re-elected.

Midway in the work which must be done before adjourning on Monday the Southern Baptist convention heard reports of its mission works and backed these reports with cash.

The last of the auxiliaries to transact its business was the Woman's Missionary Union, which re-elected its officers today and in a few minutes collected $2,187.66 for missions. The Union yesterday pledged itself to raise $8,500, in all, for the furtherance of its plans. It was announced to the accomplishment of much ap- plause that there will be an increase of 43 per cent. in the forces for home missions by the Union while the foreign missions will be increased in capacity 19 per cent.

It was learned that the committee on the next convention city will not report until Monday. Baltimore, Memphis, Asheville, Charlotte and St. Joseph, Mo., are still making a hard fight.

B. D. Gray, of Atlanta, Ga., in his report as corresponding secretary of the home mission board, said in part:

"Progress of Missions.
"There have been organized 5,917 Baptist churches and 188,003 persons baptized by this board during the year. Our work in Cuba and the southwest is yielding large returns, and the probability of our entering New Mexico makes our trans-Mississippi territory the greater. The education of 4,316 mountain boys and girls in excellent mission schools in the Appalachian mountains, at a cost the denomination of slightly more than $5 for each per year, is an achievement.

"The amount expended by the home mission board during the year is divided as follows:

Alabama, $2,431.28; Arkansas, $5,200; Florida, $9,669.24; Georgia, $40; Kentucky, $2,319.84; Louisiana, $11,498.40; Maryland, $9,197; Mississippi, $2,250; Missouri, $4,105; North Carolina, $9,465.98; Oklahoma, $12,975.61; South Carolina, $800; Tennessee, $3,825; Texas, $15,636.85; Virginia, $904.18.

"These states on their own initiative expended in the same work a total of $233,096.47.

Report of Treasurer.
"Expenditures for the purchase and improvement of mountain school property in Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia are not included in the above.

"The board has had in the field a total of 1,108 workers in comparison with 961 the previous year and has held, as an example, 15,323 prayer meetings in the southern states."

It is pointed out that the work in Panama which has been pursued during the year opens the way toward the evangelization of the South American republics. The work among the negroes is treated of with the claim that southern negro Baptists are upon a higher plane of uplift than those of any other section.

The report of Treasurer Walter Danson, of the board ends the report. This shows a total receipt in cash during the year of $311,974.05. All reports are from May 1, 1908, to May 1, 1909.

The report of the Sunday school board of Nashville, Tenn., by Dr. T. M. Frost, offered $1,000 toward the $600,000 being raised for the Southern Baptist Theological seminary and recommended that $60,000 be used to institute a chair of pedagogy named for Basil Manly, Jr., a former faculty member.

THE OLD LOVE SONG.

Play it slowly, sing it lowly,
 Old familiar tune!
 Once it ran in dance and dimple,
 Like a brook in June.
 Now it sobb along the measure
 With a sound of tears,
 Dear old voices echo through it,
 Vanished with the years.

Play it slowly—it is holy
 As an evening hymn.
 Morning gladness hushed to sadness
 Fills it to the brim.
 Memories home within the music,
 Stealing through the bars;
 Thoughts within its quiet spaces
 Rise and get like stars.

Ripple, ripple, goes the love song
 Till in slowing time,
 Early sweetness grown completeness
 Floods its every rhyme.
 Who together learn the music
 Life and death unfold
 Know that love is but beginning Until love is old.

Singing, singing through the roses
 Went our boy's twin.
 Was there ever such a rose time,
 Could there be again?
 Now they tell us "live-and-twenty"
 June's we've seen them blow,
 Every June's complete, sweeter
 Well we lovers know!

SOCIAL CALENDAR.

U. D. C. Reception Tonight.

Invitation in effect and charming in its details will be the reception this evening from 9 to 11:30 o'clock at the Palmer House in honor of the visitors in attendance upon the dedication of the Tilghman monument. The Paducah chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, are the hostesses of the evening. The Palmer House is effectively decorated in the colors of the Confederacy and with the Confederate flags. The red and white bunting are draped from the mezzanine gallery and in graceful festoons about the pillars of the dining room. The flowers used will be red and white. An informal musical program will be rendered during the evening by Don's orchestra, consisting of old-time southern melodies, the songs of the Sixties, and patriotic airs. The less will carry out the red and white motif and the cakes are decorated with the Confederate flags.

The brilliancy of the scene will be

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for it. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, South Bend Ind., will send free to any mother her success for home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures a life and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

All members of the U. D. C. chapter are on the reception committee and those not receiving in the mezzanine gallery will be stationed in other portions of the Palmer House to do the honors.

Beautiful Cantata to Be Presented.
 The cantata by Frederick Cowen, "The Rose-Maiden," that will be presented at the Woman's club house on Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock, is a complete work, really a light opera, and is full of beautiful music. It has never been given in Paducah except when the "Maid Chorus" from "The Rose-Maiden" was sung last month at the wedding of Miss Reubie Lamb and Mr. Roy Gresham, and it is all as effectively beautiful as that.

The cantata will cover about one and a half hours and a pretty love story runs through it, so it is very accessible to all who wish to enjoy it to the fullest should be present at the beginning.

The capacity of the Woman's club house should be tested with a brilliant and music-loving audience, not only to express their appreciation of the delightful home talent who will present the cantata and who have always given so graciously of their time and talents at every demand, but to enjoy one of the most charming musical events of the season.

While the Woman's club members will be admitted on their tickets, it is expected that each member will place or purchase one ticket in addition, and the audience should be a large one. Miss Jennie Gilson, 1204 Jefferson street, has charge of the tickets for sale and all the club members and any others desiring tickets can telephone her in regard to them.

Those assisting in the cantata are: Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis (Rose Blossom), Mrs. Melvin Wallerstein, solo soprano.

Miss Sarah Rogers and Mrs. Roy Gresham, sopranos.

Mrs. James Wellie (the gardener's daughter), contralto.

Mrs. George Hart, Miss Mabel Shelton and Mrs. W. C. Gray, altos.

Mr. Slavin Hall (forester), tenor.

Mr. Emmett Bagby (king), and Mr. J. K. Ferguson, baritone.

At the piano, Miss Newell.

Miss Hazel Gray McCandless, of Pennsylvania, violinist.

The program is:

1. Introduction—Piano and violin.

2. Chorus—"Green Vale and Vine-clad Mountains."

3. Recitative (tenor)—"And Thro' Earth's Sacred Chamber." Recitative (soprano)—"Oh! Hear, Thou King of Heav'n! Recitative (baritone)—"Nay, Why should All My Gladness."

4. Recitative (tenor)—"So Spoke the Spring." Chorus—"A Maid More Beautiful Than May." Solo (soprano)—"Bloom On, My Roses."

5. Chorus—"Mid the Waving an 5. Chorus—"Mid the Waving Rose-Trees."

6. Recitative (soprano)—"God Greet Thee." Scene (contralto)—"Ask of You Ruined Castle." "Yet Chime They So Sadly." Recitative (tenor)—"Alas! The Hand Is Thine." Chorus—"O! Earth-born Sorrow."

7. Trio (soprano, contralto and baritone)—"Hast Thou Wandered?" Solo (baritone)—"If Thou Hast Rightly Beholden."

8. Air (tenor)—"The Sleep of Even."

9. Recitative (baritone)—"Hark! Beneath Her Window." Duet (soprano and tenor)—"I Know a Rose-Bud Shining."

10. Chorus—"Tis Thy Wedding Morning."

Duet (soprano and baritone)—"The Rose of Love." Recitative (baritone)—"Lose, Thea, the Peace Forever." Duet (soprano and baritone)—"Soon as the Mountain Summits."

4. Recitative (tenor)—"So Spoke the Spring." Chorus—"A Maid More Beautiful Than May." Solo (soprano)—"Bloom On, My Roses."

5. Chorus—"Mid the Waving an 5. Chorus—"Mid the Waving Rose-Trees."

6. Recitative (soprano)—"God Greet Thee." Scene (contralto)—"Ask of You Ruined Castle." "Yet Chime They So Sadly." Recitative (tenor)—"Alas! The Hand Is Thine." Chorus—"O! Earth-born Sorrow."

7. Trio (soprano, contralto and baritone)—"Hast Thou Wandered?" Solo (baritone)—"If Thou Hast Rightly Beholden."

8. Air (tenor)—"The Sleep of Even."

9. Recitative (baritone)—"Hark! Beneath Her Window." Duet (soprano and tenor)—"I Know a Rose-Bud Shining."

10. Chorus—"Tis Thy Wedding Morning."

11. Solo (baritone)—"Where Gloomy Pine-Trees Rustle."

12. Recitative (tenor)—"Far From the Summer Blossom."

13. Finale (solo tenor and chorus)—"Yea Even as Die the Roses."

There will be a full rehearsal of the cantata on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. James Wellie, on North Eighth street, and all who take part are requested to be present without fail.

Mrs. Shackelford Guest of Honor.

Mrs. Charles E. Richardson entertained with a pretty bridge party on Friday afternoon at her home, 1642 Broadway, in honor of Mrs. Samuel Shackelford, of Frankfort, the guest of Mrs. Harry Tandy and Mrs. Edmund P. Noble. The house was attractively decorated in spring flowers. The game prize was won by Mrs. Luke Russell. The guest of honor was presented with a prize. A prettily appointed luncheon was served.

The guests were: Mrs. Samuel Shackelford, Frankfort; Mrs. Oscar L. Gregory, Mrs. Blaine Kilgore, Mrs. Luke Russell, Mrs. W. W. Powell, Mrs. W. A. Gardner, Mrs. Cook Hughes, Mrs. Victor Voris, Mrs. William Hughes, Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw, Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw, Jr., Mrs. Carrie Rieke and Miss Katherine Powell.

Boating Party in Honor of Graduates.

The Annual association of the Paducah High school met at the Washington school Friday afternoon in regular monthly session. It was decided to give a boating party in honor of the High school graduates Friday, June 12. Each member of the association has the privilege of inviting one guest.

A program committee was appointed to arrange a program for next year. It is composed of Mrs. John J. Dorlan, Mrs. Hal Corbett and Mrs. Louis Rieke.

An interesting program was carried out yesterday afternoon. Miss Elizabeth Shinnott gave a delightful paper on "Totipot." Miss Mattie Fowler discussed Current Events in an attractive way. A piano solo by Mrs. Vincent Salvo was also on the program.

Niehoff-Wurth Wedding at St. John's.

The marriage of Mr. Albert Wurth and Miss Rosa Niehoff took place at the St. John's church at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. The Rev. Father A. Rhinehart performed the ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated in snowballs, sweet peas and roses. It was a pretty ceremony.

The bride was lovely in a white satin dress with veil and orange blossoms. The attendants were Miss Isabel Wurth and Mr. John Wellauf. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Alfred Younker, a sister of the bride.

A wedding breakfast was served to the parents and relatives at the home of the bride following the ceremony. In the evening a reception and dance was given by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Niehoff, the parents of the bride. A number from Paducah were in attendance. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Albert Ariz, of this city.

Party to Make Boat Trip to Nashville.

WAS BALD SIX YEARS.

Three Months of the New Scientific Treatment Restored His Hair.

Baldness is caused by dandruff, which is caused by a germ. Kill the germ and it is almost certain that hair will grow again. If the follicle has not been totally destroyed, Nels Peterson of Lime Spur, Mont., says: "I had been bald six years, and had tried all kinds of 'cures,' but without any benefit whatever, until I tried Herpelde. November 16, 1899, I began using Herpelde, and in three months a fine growth of hair covered my head completely." Ask your druggist for Herpelde. Everybody can have luxuriant, glossy hair. If Herpelde is used thoroughly. Take no substitute. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpelde Co., Detroit, Mich. $1.00 bottles guaranteed. R. W. Daily Thought.

"If you are discouraged, do something for somebody quick."

A ranchman and a waitress in Idaho City, Colo., met, wooed and wed in 30 minutes. In Nevada they can quarrel, separate and be divorced in less time.

A newspaper syndicate is running a series of "undiscovered beauties." Yesterday it promulgated a picture of a beautiful stenographer. If there are any more good looking stenographers, who haven't been discovered, here's a chance to gain recognition.

McNUTT.

While Democratic papers of the state unanimously endorse the turning down of Senator McNutt, of Louisville, by the Courier-Journal, they cannot refrain from alluding to the fact that McNutt did not win at the instigation of the Courier-Journal. It is a shame for J. C. W. Beckham, who in the course of two columns of most delightful satire, has the following to say:

"McNutt has been found guilty and standing in the presence of the court he has no legal, moral or other reason to show why the sentence of the Courier-Journal should not be pronounced upon him. He might plead, it is true, that it was the Courier-Journal that told him it was right and patriotic to vote for the Republican nominee over the Democratic nominee for senator, and he might even say that he does not represent the saloon interests any more than does the editor of the paper which has sentenced him. But this will not and should not help him. He must meet the fate which all such as he may expect. He followed the lead of the Courier-Journal and he has arrived at such a condition that even his leader must repudiate him as a nauseous dose. A little more than twelve months ago his name appeared in that righteous journal, day after day, as a patriotic and incorruptible man, as a Democrat who placed principle above party, and who stood for a purified and regenerated Democracy. He was daily advised by the editor of the Courier-Journal to do what he did; the managing editor of that paper was sent from his post of duty at Louisville to stay at Frankfort during the senatorial contest to fabricate news and to help elect the Republican candidate to the senate and when the election was over a general justification was proclaimed by the same paper. Its editor rejoiced, its managing editor boasted that he had brought about the result, and the public has never learned how the two distinguished editors ever divided the honor of their victory."

POLITICS NEEDS PURIFYING.
The La Center Advance says:
"A call has been issued for a meeting of the Ballard county Democratic committee to be held at La Center today at 2 p. m. for the purpose of electing a chairman and discussing plans for nominating a candidate for the legislature."
"It is to be hoped that every member of the committee will be present and personally see that a good, clean man is elected chairman, for if there ever was a time when western Kentucky politics needed purifying it is now. The recent fiasco at Paducah is ample evidence that the political power of this district is fast slipping from the people into the hands of as bold and daring band of brigands as ever sailed the high seas.

"Come out, gentlemen, and give us an old fashioned heart warming primary, and let's show to the world that Ballard county politicians at least are willing to give the people a chance."

THE SPECTATOR.

Weekly Comments on Things About Town.

Bunting of red and white draping residence and store—the flag of the Stars and Stripes flung to the breeze—visitors from far and near thronging the streets—music and merriment and singing, what is it all about? To some it is that a city rises up to do honor to one of her sons, an intrepid leader, an high souled man. Others, who nimbly beneath those flags, but whose only uniform of grey now is that of honor upon which streaks their hair, these are today living over in memories company the days long past. Children of the southland, we are thinking of those of our own who bore the brunt of the fighting, many gave their very lives for the cause they loved, and we rise up to do them honor. Children of the northland, we are rejoicing that the love and devotion and sacrifice and patriotism, the heroism, the lofty aim and magnificent endeavor, were those of our brothers, and pride fills our hearts and love our hearts. The Spectator saw a button of the loyal legion of the north today flanked with the red and white of the south upon a veteran's breast, and rejoiced to see the day.

Yes, it is all good, we honor ourselves in honoring them, we are better for the good that was theirs. But the celebration brings other thoughts too to the Spectator's mind. Whose was the initiative of the day we keep, whose the idea we are carrying out? Whose? And what part had she in those days? While the boys in grey and the boys in blue were suffering the hardships of the long marches, the burning heat and biting cold, days of hunger and thirst, days of suffering from wounds in hospital and camp, the horror of the battle and all the hell of war, what of the women? They of finer fiber, more keen to feel and sensitive to suffer, theirs was the lot to sit still and agonize, to suffer without the help of enthusiastic hosts rushing mayhap to death under floating banner and to rattling drum and shrilling fife or lugle call. To agonize and sit still, to think and do nothing, to think, and think, all through the long day of privation nobly borne, all through the night of agony when the eyes stared at the ceiling through the hours when sleep was far away, and the loved ones were oh so near, near to the loving heart though far away on some bivouac or in the turmoil of some fight. Tears that fell upon the lint and bandages, the making of which was all she could do, life agony packed into the basket or box that she sent to the front for her loved ones comfort, agony of the heart that stopped not in the breast of the man it was laying low to earth, but sped on its way to death and buried itself in her heart, who was not allowed to die, but had to live and suffer—this, all this, and more was woman's part.

And today, in her divine unselfishness, she rises up to do honor to the men to whom honor is due, to raise the statue of bronze and granite to their memory. And it is well. It is the tragedy and the pathos and the heavenliness of the age, the "awful welliche," the eternal womanly. No granite and bronze is here, but to know that never a cause prospered that was worth the prospering, never an advance made toward the light that was worth the making, never an upward lift of humanity, except that behind it and beneath it and around it, was the self sacrifice, the blinding eye but ministering hand, the gentle touch from the agonized heart, and women, whose only privilege it was to suffer and smile, to sacrifice in silence, to forget self that she might remember another, to think not of self when all is over but the memory that she might cherish that memory.

Granite and bronze to the men who fought, more love and thoughtfulness and tenderness and thankfulness to the women who could only suffer.

Story Telling Contest.

In the story telling contest yesterday between the pupils of the fifth grade taught by Miss Anna Larkin, Miss Edith Sherrill captured the blue ribbon while Miss Bertha Ferguson was given the red ribbon. Miss Sherrill told the story of "In the Desert of Wailing," while "How Little Caesar Became a Knight" was the subject of the second winner. All of the children told their stories well. The judges were: Misses Ruth Knekel and Clara Stewart and John Robertson.

CHAPTER XIX.

A MYSTERY IS UNRAVELED.

LEUTENANT BURRILL was considerably taken aback when a quarter of an hour after the young lover's ecstatic return to his quarters Gale knocked at his door, for the trader's visit, coupled with the late hour and his somber countenance, forecast new complications.

"He's here to object, but it won't go," thought the lieutenant as he made his visitor welcome.

Mende swung his big reading chair out beneath the hanging lamp and, going to the aldehyde, brought back a bottle, some glasses and a pouch of tobacco. Nothing the old man's sign of fatigue as he sat himself down heavily, he remarked sympathetically:

"Mr. Gale, you've made a long trip today and you must be tired. If this talk is to be long, why not have a drink with me now and postpone it until tomorrow?"

"I've been tired for eighteen years," the other replied. "Tonight I hope to get rested."

"Well, let's get at it," the younger man finally said.

"I suppose you'll want to interrupt and question me a heap, but I'll ask you to let me tell this story the way it comes to me till I get it out. Likewise you'll want to know what all this has to do with you and Necla. Yes, she told me about you and her, and that's why I'm here." He paused. "You really think you love her, don't you?"

Burrill removed his pipe and gazed at its coal impersonally.

"I love her so well, Mr. Gale, that nothing you can say will affect me. I hesitated at first about asking her to be my wife because—you'll appreciate the unusual—well, her unusual history. You see, I come from a country where mixed blood is about the only thing that can't be fired down or overlooked, and I've been raised with notions of family honor and pride of race and birth, and so forth, that might seem preposterous and absurd to you. But a heap of conceits like that have been bred into me from generations back. They run in the blood of every old family in my country, and so, I'm ashamed to say, I hesitated and tried to reason myself into giving her up, but I've had my eyes opened, and I see how little those things amount to, after all. I'm going to marry Necla, Mr. Gale. I'd like to do it the day after tomorrow, Sunday, but she isn't of age yet, and if you object we'll have to wait until November, when she turns eighteen. We'd both like your consent, of course. I'd be sorry to marry her without it. But if you refuse we'll be forced to displease you." He looked up and met the father's gaze steadily.

The other man's lips framed a faint smile.

"We'll see. I wish to God I'd had your decision when I was your age. This story would be different and easier to tell." He waited a moment, then settled to his self-appointed task. "I was mining at the time up in the mother lode country of California, which was the frontier then, pretty much as it is now, only we had better things to eat. I was one of the first men into a camp named Chandon—helped to build it, in fact—and got hold of some ground that looked real good. It was hard mining, however, and, being poor, I was still gripping my drill and hammer after the town had grown up."

"A woman came out from the east—Vermont it was—and schoolteaching was her line of business, only she hadn't been raised to it, and this was her first clatter at the game. Her folks died and left her up against it. I gathered from what little she told me—sort of an old story, I guess, and usual, too, only for her. She was plumb unusual."

He seemed to ponder this a moment and then resumed:

"It don't make any difference to you how I first saw her and how I began to forget that anything else in the world was worth having but her. I'd lived in the woods all my life, as I said, and knew more about birds and bugs and bees than I did about women. I hadn't been broke proper and didn't know how to act with them, but I laid out to get this girl, and I did fairly well. There's something wild in every woman that needs to be tamed, and it isn't like the wildness that runs in wood critters. You can win that over by gentleness, but you have to take it away from a woman. Every live thing that couldn't talk was my friend, but I made the mistake of courting my own kind the same way, not knowing that when two of any species mate the male must rule."

was too gentle. Even so, I reckon I'd have won out only for another man. Dan Bennett was his name—the kind that dumb animals hate, and—well, that takes his measure. His range adjoined mine, and, though I'd never seen him, I heard stories now and then—the sort of tales you can't tell to a good woman—so it worried me when I heard of his attentions to this girl. Still, I thought she'd surely told him out and recognize the kind of fellow he was; but, Lord, a woman can't tell a man from a dog, and there wasn't any one to warn her.

"This Bennett came from the town below, where he ran a saloon, and a huge game of two; but, being as he rode into our camp and out again in the night and as I didn't drink nor listen to the music of the little rolling ball, why, we never met even after he began coming to Chandon. Understand, I wasn't too good for those muskies. I just didn't happen to hanker after them, for I was living with the image of the little school-marm in my mind, and that destroyed what had built I'd formed."

"It was along in the early spring that she began to see I had notions about her, but my d—d backwardness wouldn't let me speak, and, in addition, I was getting closer to ore every shot at the mine and was holding off until I could lay both myself and my gold mine at her feet and ask her to take the two of us, so if one didn't pin out the other might. But it seemed like I'd never get into pay. The closer I got the harder I worked, and, of course, the less I saw of her, likewise the oftener Bennett came. I reckon no man ever worked like I did—two shifts a day, eighteen hours, with six to sleep. The skin came off of my hands, and fatigued when I came out into the daylight. At last I struck it, and still I walked awhile longer till I could be sure. Then I went down to my little shack and put on my other clothes. I remember I'd gone so thin that they hung loose, and my palms were so raw I had hard work handling the buttons and got my shirt all bloody, for I'd been in the drift forty hours without sleep and breathing powder smoke till my knees buckled and wobbled under me. To this day the smell of stale powder smoke makes a woman of me, but that morning I sang, for I was going for my bride, and the world was brighter than it has ever been for eighteen years. The little schoolhouse was closed, at which I remembered that the term was over. I'd been living underground for weeks and lost track of the days, so that I had to count them up on my fingers. It took me a long time, for I was pretty tired in my head, but when I'd figured it out I went on to where she was boarding."

Kezema Cured.

For the information of anyone suffering with eczema, I will say, I was a sufferer with this disease for twenty years. Several months ago I tried Hays' Specific, and after about three weeks' use my legs shed off as white and free from eczema as they were before I had eczema. I have had no pain nor annoyance since; in fact, I am well.

If You Expect to Win Get Busy.
In every newspaper contest that was ever run there were at least a score of contestants who thought they would win the Grand Prize because they were so popular their friends would make them win. In every instance these scores of people were bitterly disappointed. They left the matter to their friends and their friends with one accord said, "If so-and-so is too lazy to help himself in this matter I am sure I have no call to work for him."

Right here is a good place to tell what Old Mr. Aesop said about doing things yourself if you want them done:

Once there was a Mother Lark who started her brood in a field of ripening grain. Harvest time came around, time for the grain to be cut, but the lark delayed moving her family for they were young and weakly. Every day would make them stronger and better able to stand a journey.

One day the parent bird came home from a foraging expedition and found her children in great alarm. The farmer had passed their nest during the day and remarked to his son that he had asked his neighbors to come and help him cut his grain on the following day. But the old one merely chirped a bird-laugh and said in lark-talk, "We are safe for another day at least. If Farmer depends on his friends and neighbors his corn will not be reaped tomorrow."

Next day the birds had a similar scare for they overheard Farmer saying that he had called upon all his kin-folks to come and help harvest his line crop of grain. But still the Mother Lark had not the least alarm.

Finally in the course of a week, when the dealings had acquired most of their feathers and considerable strength, they heard the husbandman tell his son to get a couple of sickles and sharpen them well so that the two of them could get at the cutting the next day.

Then, and only then, did the Old Lark bestir herself and move her family to safer quarters, for being a wise Old Bird, she knew that the work would fly now that the farmer had decided to do it himself.

If you want your contest campaign to be a vigorous one START IT OFF YOURSELF. You will suffer no real opposition to your competitors if you depend upon your friends and kin to start things off for you.

According to advertisements all summer resorts are alike. They are the best ever—but if fishing is better anywhere else than it is in "Georgian Bay" we do not know where it is. There is a greater variety of fish in this water than anywhere else, and they are always hungry. The only place where you can afford to fish is where the fish are numerous, big and delicious in flavor, and that place is Georgian Bay—so the fishermen say. Goebel Avenue Revival.

The meeting at Goebel Avenue Christian church proved very interesting last night and a large congregation greeted Evangelist Smith. His subject was "What are the Lessons that We Learn from the Old Testament," which was ably discussed and made very profitable. He showed the importance of studying, because it was written for our learning and in that we learn that those who obeyed God were blessed in their deeds, and those who did not were condemned for disobedience, and we learn that God is the same today and forever.

PADUCAH SCHOOL DEBATERS WIN OUT

Defeat Cairo High on Question of Navy.

Large Crowd at Auditorium Evinces School Spirit During the Evening.

EXCELLENT MUSICAL PROGRAM

Uncle Sam's navy should be larger according to the judges, who decided in favor of Paducah high school in the debate with the Cairo high school. Both schools had splendid arguments, and the decision was almost as close as the honors for Paducah and one for Cairo. The judges complimented the Cairo speakers on their fine arguments, but Paducah's end of the argument was thought the better. The question was: "Resolved that the American Navy Should Be Increased."

The debate was a success, and the spirit at the school resembled a college town. The citizens of Paducah were well represented, while a delegation of 27 arrived from Cairo on the evening train to help the Cairo orators out. The auditorium was decorated prettily with the school colors of both schools with a liberal supply of pennants. At frequent intervals the high school students gave their yells for Cairo and the Paducah speakers. Cairo had yells too but were overshadowed by the number of Paducah rooters.

The stage made in pretty appearance in the decorations of flowers and pennants. On the stage were seated Kenny Goldsmith and Dwight Ohlum, of Cairo, Edward Mitchell and Marvin Sills, of Paducah, and Prof. W. H. Sugg. Edward Mitchell opened the debate for the affirmative, and as the judges said "in a business like way" set forth his points why the navy should be enlarged. His points were a comparison of the commerce of the United States with other nations, a comparison of the naval strength of the United States and other nations, the Panama canal and the Monroe doctrine, and the danger of the unprotected Pacific coast. He was followed by Dwight Ohlum, who made the first defense of the negative. He had a splendid speech well prepared, and had he used gestures his side might have carried off the honors. Mr. Ohlum expressed full confidence in the boys in blue on the small number of ships of the United States and discussed the recent expenditures for the navy, while he closed with an appeal for a preparation of peace instead of doing war to go.

Marvin Sills was the second speaker for Paducah, and he turned up history, and showed the old countries with large navies. He took the stand "in time of peace prepare for war," and he emphasized the long coast line of the United States with a small navy. His argument closed with the belief that the expenditure of a large sum on the navy would save suffering of the nation and the expenditure of a vast sum in war. Kenny Goldsmith, who closed the debate for Cairo, disagreed with the affirmative. He pointed to the fact that the United States should not rush in until aerial navigation had been investigated. He said that the Pacific could not be defended much better because of the lack of coaling stations, and pointed to the strong coast batteries. His belief was that the present navy would suffice to protect both coasts with the completion of the Panama canal. His speech was one of the best of the evening.

In five minute reply Edward Mitchell answered some of the strong points of the negative, and finally closed the argument.

The judges, Prof. F. G. Powdley, of Metropolis; Hon. Lai Threlkeld, of Smithland, and Prof. A. C. Burton, of Mayfield, retired, and cast the ballots that decided the winner. After the announcement of the vote the high school rooters gave way to their pent up enthusiasm.

Musical Program. During the evening a splendid musical program was given. Miss Adah Irazelton piano, Clark Bondurant, violin, and Robert Bondurant, cornet, played two selections, and Miss Anne Bradshaw sang a beautiful solo. Mr. Emmett S. Highty sang "Jenny Deever" in splendid style, while Miss Mabel Sholton revealed a sweet voice in "The Daffodils."

Following the debate a reception was held at the high school for the Cairo students, and an enjoyable evening was spent. The Cairo delegation returned home this morning on the steamer Dick Fowler. The following arrived from Cairo: Miss Wilson, Miss Bell, Miss Mulberry, Mrs. Miller and Professor Carlson, of the Cairo high school faculty; and Misses Rosalind Roberts, Margaret Story, Alice Mc-Knight, Lonise Berry, Phyllis Smith, Alice Hastings, Zaida Lewis, Mrs. Thrum and Messrs. Simpson Bondurant, Stewart Lewis, Edward Hill, Leo Johnson, Fletcher Lippt, Howard Pennebaker, Joe McGruder, John Castleman, Howard Frank, Robert Huette, Henry Lewis, George Mattingly, George Keohler, Tom Boyd, Dwight Ohlum and Kenney Goldsmith.

J. H. MIX

PRESIDENT MARINE ENGINEERS' ASSOCIATION DIES.

Well Known Riverman Succumbs to Attack of Heart Trouble This Morning.

Mr. James Harry Mix, 61 years old, died very suddenly this morning about 3 o'clock at his home, 901 South Fourth street, of heart trouble. Mr. Mix had been a steamboat engineer on boats running out of Paducah for 33 years. He had been on the steamer Margaret, towing ties for the Ayer & Lord Tie company. The Margaret arrived in port last night from the Cumberland and Mr. Mix went to his home about 10 o'clock and talked with his family till about 12 o'clock, when he retired. He ate a hearty supper on the boat and enjoyed a game of cards with several other members of the crew just before going home. About 2 o'clock Mr. Mix awoke and complained of pains about his heart. In course of a half hour Mr. Mix became unconscious. A physician was called and arrived a little before 3 o'clock, but Mr. Mix never regained consciousness and died 40 minutes after the arrival of the doctor.

Mr. Mix was born and reared in Virginia and had been a resident of this city the greater part of his life. He was one of the best known engineers on the river. He had been engineer on most all the boats running out of this port. He had been employed by the Ayer & Lord Tie company off and on for the last 15 years. He was president of the Marine Engineers' association and a member of the Columbia Woodmen. Mr. Mix was a member of the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Miss Mary Mix, of Oakland, Cal., Miss Emma Mix, of this city, two sons, Mr. Charles Mix, of Mattoon, Ill., and Mr. William Mix, of Macon, Ga., also a sister, Mrs. Mollie Carter, of Terre Haute, and a brother, Mr. John Mix, of Virginia.

The funeral will be held some time Monday at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church. The burial will be at the Mt. Carmel cemetery. Other funeral arrangements will not be made till after the arrival of his two sons.

tral railroad were filled with Johnny Rebs, who wore a quile as broad as in former days. The old soldiers came in from all directions. Some were crippled, some walked as lightly as a young man, but all were happy.

General Lloyd Tilghman.

Gen Tilghman was a native of Baltimore, Md. He came of a distinguished family of soldiers. His grandfather was General Tamm Tilghman, of Revolutionary fame. General Lloyd Tilghman graduated with very high honors at West Point, in the class with Buckner, Joe Johnson and Hardin. Soon after graduating he served in the Mexican war, being lieutenant in the famous "Irregular" battery, which ruined grape and canister at Buena Vista. He also served his country with much distinction in the army of the isthmus of the Darien canal. He resigned as captain in the United States army some years before the Civil war and gave his attention to railroad engineering.

General Tilghman built the first railroad into Paducah in 1854-55, at that time called the New Orleans and Jackson railroad, from Paducah to Mayfield. This was the second railroad in the state, the railroad from Louisville to Frankfort being the first. He also engineered several railroads in Arkansas and Missouri.

guard was organized in 1860 General Tilghman was made the colonel and General Buckner brigadier general. General Tilghman organized and drilled one infantry company which afterwards became Company D Fifth Kentucky regiment, C. S. A., and a battery of 12 guns commanded by Lieutenant Cook, and this became the famous Cobb's battery. Cook never joined the Confederates. The company of infantry was named the Tilghman guards.

As soon as hostilities commenced General Tilghman's reputation was recognized. He was made colonel of the Third Kentucky regiment but within a month he was made brigadier general, one of the very first brigadier generals appointed. His engineering skill being known to President Davis he was assigned at once to make the fortifications and plan the guns at Fort Donaldson and Fort Henry. One of the most heroic sacrifices of the war was when he started his infantry from Fort Henry to Fort Donaldson, and keeping only 50 gunners held back the entire Federal fleet until his army could escape. He worked his Robust and Strong—Splendid Appetite.

Mrs. E. West, 137 Main St., Menasha, Wis., writes:

"We have used Peruna in our family for a number of years and when I say that it is a fine medicine for catarrh and colds, I know what I am talking about."

"I have taken it every Spring and Fall for four years, and I find that it keeps me robust, strong, with splendid appetite, and free from any illness. A few years ago it cured me of catarrh of the stomach, which the doctors had pronounced incurable."

"I am very much pleased with Peruna."

Bowels and Stomach.

Miss Mary Jones, 7015 Reynolds Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I can recommend Peruna as a good medicine for chronic catarrh of the bowels and stomach. I have been troubled severely with it for over three years. I consulted two of Chicago's best doctors, but none seemed to make any improvements whatever."

"One year ago I began to take Peruna, the wonderful tonic for women, and I noticed a wonderful improvement at once. I took six bottles in succession and I always have it on hand to take some now and then when my cough is bad."

"Words cannot express my praise for your tonic. I weighed only ninety pounds before taking Peruna, now one hundred and nineteen pounds."

"Any one who has chronic catarrh should try Peruna. It will help any one."

"I was persuaded to give Peruna a trial, and the first bottle proved a god-send, and after taking ten bottles I have received a permanent cure."

Her mother, Mrs. John Hunsaworth, says: "I feel as though I ought to praise Peruna above every and any medicine in the world for what it has done for my daughter. She seems to be completely cured."

A Medicine for Women.

Mrs. E. T. Gaddis, Marion, N. O., writes:

"Before I commenced to take Peruna I could not do any hard work without suffering great pain."

"I took Peruna and Manalin, and can say with pleasure that it has done more for me than any other medicine I have ever taken. Now I am as well as ever. I do all my own work and it never hurts me at all."

"I think Peruna is a great medicine for womanhood."

A Household Remedy.

Mrs. J. E. Walker, 512 Chestnut, Kansas City, Mo., member United Presbyterian Church, writes:

"I have been married eight years and have two children, and have never in my life found any one medicine as valuable as a household remedy as Peruna."

"My husband took it seven years ago for a cold and catarrhal trouble. I use it every year as a tonic and give it to the children when they take cold or have any of the ailments which children are addicted to."

"I found that it is the only medicine that we need, and do not hesitate to recommend it as a splendid household remedy."

Could Neither Eat Nor Sleep.

Mrs. N. E. Lawler, 4215 N. Broadway, Pittsburgh, Kan., writes: "Peruna is a sovereign remedy for catarrh."

"Last spring I caught a severe cold, which developed into a serious case of catarrh. I felt weak and sick, and could neither eat nor sleep well."

"A member of our club who had been cured of catarrh through the use of Peruna, advised me to try it and I did so at once. In three days I felt much better and within a week I was well. I continued taking the entire bottle, and within two weeks I was in fine health."

Now Well and Hearty.

Mrs. Caroline Daft, Route 1, Bryan, Ohio, writes:

"I can testify to the merits of Peruna. I have taken considerable of it, and one bottle of Manalin, and they both are most excellent remedies."

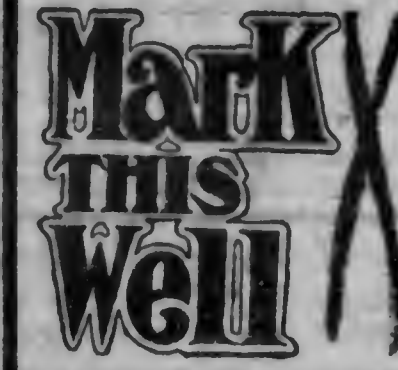

"I am as well and hearty as I ever was in my life and give the credit entirely to your medicine."

Now Has Good Appetite.

Mrs. Selma Tanner, Athens, Ohio, writes:

"I cannot find words to express my thanks for your kind advice. I never once thought I had catarrh of the stomach."

"I commenced taking Peruna as you directed. My stomach continued to hurt me for about two weeks after I began the medicine, and then it stopped. I now have a good appetite, while before I was nearly starved."

BASEBALL NEWS

Metropolis vs. Red Sox.

Tomorrow afternoon on the diamond in the rear of the Illinois Central shops, the Metropolis Blues and the Red Sox baseball team will tie up for an interesting nine inning round. Both teams are well matched and there is considerable speculation as to the winner. The Metropolis team will come prepared to down the Paducah warriors, who are confident that they can turn the trick.

Switzer or Haanah will be in the box for the red hosiery boys while Fuller or Cathey will handle the big mit.

Indians vs. Carbondale.

Chief Lloyd and his band of braves will endeavor to scarp the Carbondale team tomorrow at League park, and one of the tightest games of the season is expected. A large crowd is expected as the team is in the hole because of the expense of bringing the Herrin team last Sunday and being unable to play on account of rain. Itunyan will be on the slab, and is in fine form while Block will do the receiving stunt in his usual good style.

Red Cross Team Won.

The Red Cross baseball team won from the B. A. C. team yesterday afternoon in a hard fought game by a score of 12 to 8. Babb, Ellington and Jones were the battery for the winning nine while Wahl and Harham were on the pouts for the B. A. C's.

Little B. A. C's Win.

The Little B. A. C's won a victory from the Buffalos by the score of 26 to 18. The B. A. C. line up was: Litterback, c; Meacham, p; Stogor, 1b; Loving, 2b; Renfro, 3b; Koph, ss; R. F. Quesberry, rf; Shellman, lf; F. A. Quesberry, cf. Buffalos line up was: Levy, c; Carroll, p; Beeler, 1b; Marks, 2b; H. Michael, 3b; Klein, ss; R. Michael, rf; Cohn, lf; Simoa, cf.

The score was 11 to 1 in the first inning in favor of the Buffalos. Then both teams fought hard until the last of the ninth the score was 18 to 18, when the B. A. C's ran in eight scores.

For Lameness in Horses

Much of the chronic lameness in horses is due to neglect. See that your horse is not allowed to go lame. Keep Sloan's Liniment on hand and apply at the first signs of stiffness. It's wonderfully penetrating—goes right to the spot—relieves the soreness—limbers up the joints and makes the muscles elastic and pliant.

Sloan's Liniment

will kill a spavin, curb or splint, reduce wind puffs and swollen joints, and is a sure and speedy remedy for fistula, sweeney, founder and thrush. Price, 50c. and $1.00.

Big Reduction Sale of Ladies' Tailored Suits

Beginning Monday, May 17th

We had a most successful season on Ladies' Tailored Suits, now having left about fifty from our entire spring showing. These are all this season's styles and for Fall the style promises very little, if any, material change. But we need the room for Wash Suits and Dresses now coming in every day; hence, we inaugurate this REDUCTION SALE much earlier than is the custom. Of course, the stock is broken—one size of any one suit or color, but nearly all sizes and colors are included, in a fine range of the fifty suits. We want to clear them out quick so have priced with that aim. They will go fast—so don't delay in coming down. At these prices they are cash, with the actual cost of alteration extra, if any is necessary:

DIRT AND TRASH

Outdoor Art League Cites Pertinent Ordinance.

Knowledge of Facts Will Make Cooperation an Easy Matter in Future.

THE LAW AS TO THE GARBAGE

When the annual cleaning np.
under the auspices of the Woman's Outdoor Art League, was held a short time ago, the members of the league discovered that, while nearly everybody was inclined to co-operate in the movement for a cleaner city, many did not understand what is required of them under the ordinances.
The members of the league feel that, with a thorough understanding of the ordinances which govern such matters, the next cleaning up will be fruitful of greater results than have ever been realized before.

Below are given a number of important references to the ordinances contained in the biennial compilation 197 edition:

Sec. 45. Earth taken from excavations and rubbish taken from hillsides being erected, altered, repaired or demolished, shall not be stored upon sidewalks, streets or alleys, etc.
Rubbish apt to produce dust must be wetted, etc.

Sec. 48. Provision as to dumping iron, steel and stone on asphalt pavements.

Sec. 50. Building materials or earth from excavations may be temporarily deposited in alleys, sixteen feet or more in width, not to encroach on space more than one-third the width of the alley, and subject to immediate removal on short order by the inspector of buildings, etc.

Page 365: Dirt, Garbage, Trash, Waste.
An ordinance prohibiting the dumping, throwing or placing of dirt, trash, garbage or other waste, on the sidewalk or into the gutter of the public ways of the city of Louisville.

—Approved October 8, 1895.
Section 1. That hereafter it shall be unlawful to sweep, throw or place any dirt, trash, garbage or waste on the sidewalks or into the gutter of public ways of the city of Louisville.

Sec. 2. All such dirt, garbage, trash or waste shall be placed in boxes, barrels or other receptacles, and same deposited on the curb or sidewalk in front of the premises from which it came, before 7 a. m.
of each day so that it may be removed by the proper employees of the city.

Sec. 3. Any violation of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by fine of not less than $5 nor more than $20 for each offense.

Sec. 4. All ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Sec. 5. This ordinance takes effect from its approval.

Page 570.—An ordinance relating to the growth of weeds and other vegetable matter in the sidewalks and gutters of the city of Louisville.
Do it ordained, etc.:

Section 1. That hereafter it shall be unlawful for the owner or agent of ground fronting any of the public highways of the city of Louisville, to permit any weed or other vegetable matter to grow or remain in the sidewalk or gutters of the street in front of his property.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the board of public works to give notice to the owner of the property or to the agent, and if, after the expiration of five days the nuisance is not abated said owner or agent shall be fined not less than $5 nor more than $25 for each additional day the same remains unabated.

Sec. 3. All ordinance in conflict with this ordinance are repealed.
This ordinance shall take effect from and after its publication.

Approved August 10, 1895.
Page 650: An ordinance concerning the removal of stagnant water from the city of Louisville. Approved March 20, 1897.

Sec. 1. Any vacant lot or lots containing stagnant water or other matter or substance deleterious to health upon inspection and condemnation by the health officer, or on petition of two-thirds of the property owners, renters or residents, upon the square block in which said stagnant water, etc., may exist or is located shall be removed and abated under the direction and supervision of the board of public works, etc.

Ten to $25 fine for continuance of nuisance, etc.

Page 873: An ordinance requiring the removal of weeds and filth from lots in the city of Louisville. Approved May 2, 1906.

Do it ordained, etc.:

Makes it unlawful for owners, agents or occupants of lots (improved or vacant) to permit any growth of weed which are, or may become, a nuisance to the public health, or collection of garbage or filth of any description to remain on the lot for a longer period than three days after notice to remove. Same has been given by the health department, etc.
Fine $5 to $20 each day; separate offenses.—Louisville Post.

A Promise to Pay

Would you accept a stranger's note? No. Then why accept from a stranger any other promise to pay? A Fire insurance policy is such a promise.
Ought you to accept it without knowing all about the Company? Your usual business confidence is based on knowledge. Why make an exception in that part of your business which deals with insurance? A name is worth nothing on any kind of a promise to pay unless it is backed by character and resources.

We favor insurance knowledge, particularly about our companies. Their promises to pay have never gone to protest. Their obligations to its policy holders are backed with such a good reputation and such ample financial resources that the more you know about them the more you will want protection by their policies.

SIMPLICITY IN WHITE HOUSE

Desired by President William Taft and Wife.

But Washington Society Insists on Being Stiff and Very Formal.

ALL LIVELY DISPENSED WITH.

Washington, May 15.—Dear old Democratic simplicity is having a hard struggle at the white house.
Although he is introduced and vouched for by the president and Mrs. Taft, and should therefore be eligible to mingle with the very best society, he has been reduced to the humiliating strait of struggling along by himself. Society refuses to mingle with him.

When Mr. and Mrs. Taft entered the white house it was their ambition gently but firmly to restore life to the good old simplicity of our forefathers.
The uniformed policemen were handled from the front door and two plain-faced negro servants installed in their stead.

Mrs. Taft decreed that all the gold lace and brass buttons should go, and the president thoroughly agreed with her that the time was opportune for the restoration of the frill-less program of the fathers of the republic.
When he held receptions at the white house the president would mix freely with his guests, and there should be no formality. He would do away with the gilt-embroidered officers who had been in the habit of gracing the functions with their presence, and everyone, himself included, should be perfectly at ease.

The prospect looked grand. Who could possibly find any fault with it?
But alas and alack! When the innovation came to be tried social Washington refused to open its arms. Mr.
Democratic Simplicity got the coldest stare and hardest jolt of his honorable career. "Don't be formal now" —or words to that effect—exclaimed the president, using his most winning smile. "I want you to feel at home. Enjoy yourselves, and when you get tired of the affair, or have business that calls you elsewhere, just go ahead. Whatever you do don't be formal."

"Oh, no, we won't be formal," replied Social Washington with a sweet smile and a low bow; "how perfectly lovely of you, Mr. President."

And thereupon society's back stiffened, the air grew chill in the vicinity of the east room, and the hearty laugh of the president was the only one that could be heard. The president and Mrs. Taft wandered about among the throng and did their best to put everyone at his or her ease, but the moment they appeared within two yards of any of their guests, the latter straightened up, looked scared, tried to hide their hands, and began to ooze cold perspiration.

The president and his wife were approaching and they did not know just what to do. Their tongues refused to work, their brains suddenly became vacuums, and all they could do was to utter the commonest commonplaces about the weather. As soon as the awe-inspiring presence of the first lady and gentleman of the land left, the guests became themselves again and the atmosphere in that part of the room became appreciably warmer.

It was the same sort of story at the conclusion of the functions. Instead of just picking up their hats and cloaks and leaving, the society folk insisted upon "paying their respects" and saying good-bye. They had been doing this ever since their first visit to the white house and the habit was so ingrained that they felt that unless they carried out the time-honored custom one of the stone pillars of the front porch would drop before they got safely away.

They could not convince themselves that the president meant what he said about dropping formalities.
The stiff-necked social conventions of latter days had come to mean as much to them as three meals a day, and how on earth they could abandon them they were at a loss to know.
So they just hung on to them for dear life and compelled Mr. and Mrs.
Taft to go through the whole stilted program of meaningless compliment and tiresome farewell.

As a result of the failure to install the good old manners of our dad-dies, the visions of gold lace personified by the president's military and naval aides are still seen at the white house and will continue to gladden the eyes of society all through the Taft administration.

The aids are needed to keep the social crowd moving, for the crowd does not now how to handle itself.
It has become so accustomed to opening and shutting its composite mouth with the assistance of the gentlemen in gold lace that it cannot use its jaws without them.

In the matter of travel, President Taft is also trying to get back to Democratic simplicity. Instead of hiring a special train, as President Roosevelt usually did when visiting other cities, President Taft merely chartered a private car which is hitched to the regular passenger trains of the lines that reach the points he wishes to visit.

As a consequence he is usually half or three-quarters of an hour late in making his destination, but he probably feels recompensed in the knowledge that he is not making a "show" of himself in any way and is traveling very much like any other American gentleman.

His modesty in this respect also

MASSAC ITEMS.

Mrs. Minerva Gholson celebrated her eighty-third anniversary with bright prospects of many returns.

"The Oaks," with its spacious green lawn, broad spreading trees, large commodious white house, was the scene of much enjoyment May 7, the occasion being a reunion of many grandchildren and other relatives of Mrs. Gholson's coming to rejoice with her on her 83rd birthday. Mrs. Gholson received her guests in the large double parlors assisted by her son, daughter, sister and granddaughters: S. W. Gholson, Mrs. Phoebe Gholson Gardner, Mrs. Jennie Bradley, Mrs. Ruby Gholson Overstreet, Miss Anny Gholson.

Most of the ladies wore white hand embroidered dresses and everybody wore a happy smile. Mrs. Gholson (Grandma, as nearly everyone lovingly calls her), comes of a family of great longevity. Her father, Esquire Samuel Rice, many years county surveyor, lived to be more than 80. Her grandfather and grandmother lived to be nearly 90, her sister, Mrs. Purdom, is 73; her sister, Mrs. Flowers of Washington, D. C., is 80; her brother, Rev. L. C. Rice, has just passed his ninetieth mile stone.

The guests from Paducah were: Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Anderson and children, Mary, Dorothy, James and William, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Craig and son Lillard, Mr. Granville White and sister, Mrs. Dora Curd and son Holland, Mrs. Jennie Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rainey, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hamilton and daughter Marjorie.

"Fair View"—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simpson, Kevil—Mrs. Ida Unsel and son, Chicago—Miss Naydi Spaulding, "Pleasant Retreat, Cottage"—Rev. L. C. Rice and wife, son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Rice and daughter, Massac—Mr. and Mrs. Chatman, son and daughter, Velma and Terry, Cairo—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gholson, Maple Grove Farm—Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Gholson, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and two sons, "Evergreen Place"—Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Overstreet and sons, Charles, E. D. Elgie and Chesterfield, Lovelaceville—Miss Nettie Humphreys. A bountiful dinner was served.

Color scheme, green and white souvenirs white carnations in honor of "Mother's Day."

The afternoon was interspersed with music, readings, flower, tree and planting contests. Mr. S. W. Gholson delighted the company by showing them the surrounding country through his surveyor's telescope. "Grandma" was constantly surrounded by an admiring audience listening to her animated discussion of current topics.

The day passed away without an accident to mar the harmony prevalent among the guests and they parted with smiles and good wishes for all.

Wine and Literature.

Eliminate wine from literature and what a gap is made! It figures in the Scriptures; it is drunk at Homeric banquets; it makes a philosophical appeal in Horace; it compensates old Omar for the sadness of many an hour when the wrangling of the sages was more conspicuous than the truth they unveiled. Fancy Shakespeare without sack—"Good sack," which, as Falstaff says, "hath no fellow." Yet Shakespeare was no counsellor of wassailing, and, recalling some occasion when he drank "not wisely, but too well," he uttered immortal praise of "honest water, that ne'er left man 'th' mire."—Rochester Post-Express.

Motorist: "What advantage has the airship over the motor car?"
Aeronaut: "Well, for one thing, you can always be sure of making good time on the return trip."—Illustrated Bits.

OLD ALMANACS ARE PRESERVED

New England Man Has Interesting Collection.

Quaint Weather Signs in One of the Year 1722—Wind, Sky and Birds Furnish.

SOME SIGNS ARE NOW HEEDED.

The fad of collecting old almanacs, which has been carried on by generations of New England families, has developed many notable exhibits, but perhaps few can equal that of Everett L. Nye, the postmaster of Wellfleet, whose oldest manuscript dates back to the year 1722, says the Boston Post.

The Sunday Post recently mentioned the valuable collections of Charles T. Corey, Edward Southwick and J. N. Lord, but the antiquity of their almanacs could not rival those that Mr. Nye's family has treasured up for many years. The oldest Southwick and Lord manuscripts bore dates of 1743 and 1745 respectively. They also possess other ancient almanacs.

"An almanac for the Year of Our Lord 1722 from the Creation of the World, according to the best of Profane History, but by the Account of Holy Scripture" is the title of the prize manuscript in Mr. Nye's collection. It is by Nathaniel Whittemore and was printed by B. Green. Although the pamphlet contains many assertions which seem strange today the following paragraphs, under the title "Natural Prognosticks of the Judgment of the Weather," are perhaps the most notable:

"The resounding of the sea upon the shore and the murmuring of winds in the woods show winds to follow.

"The obscuring of the smaller stars is a sign of tempest to follow."

"The often changing of the winds also shows tempest."

"If two rainbows appear, rain; a rainbow presently after rain, fair weather."

"The skie red in the morning is a sure token of wind and rain to follow. If the sun nook pale, look for rain; if fair and bright, fair weather; if in the west at sun setting there appear a black cloud, rain that night. If mist come down from the hills, or descend from the heavens and settle in the valleys, it promiseth fair, hot, sunshine weather."

"Mists in the evening show a hot day on the morrow. The circles about the sun, if they be red and broken, portend wind; if thick and dark, winds, snow or rain; the like, if of the moon. Solid bodies sweating, as stones, bricks, tiles, foreshow rain. Birds, swallows and other birds gathering together, and dipping in the water show rain."

"Great numbers of muscotoes and other small flies foreshow rain."

"A sound and pure air, if made hot presently after sun rising, and made cold presently after sun setting."

"A corrupted and infectious air is made by the often blowing of the south and southeasterly and northeasterly wind, longenders sickness."

"The northwest and west winds are wholesome."

This valuable information is followed by a medical advertisement.

Mr. Nye also numbers among his collection almanacs bearing the dates of 1729 and 1732, written by Nathan Bowen, a native of New England. He also possesses the notable Nathaniel Ames almanac, published each year from 1726 to 1776. His collection of these is complete with the exception of the years 1772 to 1774.

Oklahoma's White-Footed Fox.

Dick Jones of Prague, Okla., says the Tulsa World, has the distinction of catching the first white-footed fox in this section of the country. While out hunting recently in Okfuskee County, he jumped a red fox in the field. He fired a shot out of his shotgun, and Mr. Fox went head over heels.

Jones walked over and picked up his game, and, to his surprise, found it to be a white-footed red fox. The animal is very rare, and there have probably not been more than half a dozen like it killed in this country. The white-footed fox is as scarce as white quail or a white squirrel, a specimen of both of which have been killed in Eastern Oklahoma this fall. Its front feet are marked with white. The right foot has a white stocking to the knee, while the left foot is white nearly to the shoulder. The fox was shipped to Graham Burnham of this city, who will mount it.
